I APOLOGIZE
FOR PUSHING
YOUR BUTTONS.

Julie was standing in front of a soda machine saying, "You are a dumb-looking button. You don't have much of a future, either. People are going to be punching you all of your life. Then, you are going to be replaced by a much better-looking button." When asked what she was doing, Julie pointed to the notice on the front of the machine, which said, "Depress button for soda."

Pilot: Have you ever flown in a small plane before?
Passenger: No, I have not.
Pilot: Well, here is some chewing gum. It will help to keep your ears from popping.
Pilot (after the plane landed): Did the gum help?
Passenger: Yep, it worked fine. The only trouble is, I can't get the gum out of my ears.

Mary was more aggressive at work than she realized. After she had her annual performance review, she was asked, "How did it go?" "They wrote down that I was overbearing," she replied with a shrug. "I made them take it off."

Joe never wanted to believe that his Dad was stealing from his job as a road worker. But, when he got home, all the signs were there.

My friend thinks he is smart. He told me an onion is the only food that makes you cry, so I threw a coconut at his face.

I GUESS
I'LL PULL
THE PLUGS
ON THIS IDEA.

Just a few weeks after taking a job as a security guard, Bill announced that he had been fired. He explained that he'd fallen asleep at his desk and someone broke into the building. "But, you're such a light sleeper," Bill's wife said. "I'm surprised the sound of the guy breaking in didn't wake you up." "I didn't get fired for falling asleep," he confessed. "I was fired for wearing my earplugs."

HOW MUCH SNOW
DID YOU GET?

ABOUT 100 ACRES.

It was a disastrous year for the farmers. The snow fell and fell until the government relief agency had to step in and lend a hand. "It must have been terrible," said the relief worker to a farmer. "All of that snow." "Could have been worse," the farmer calmly answered. "My neighbor had more snow than me." "How is that possible?" asked the relief worker. "More land," replied the farmer.

One day, Timmy said to his father: I want to get married.
Father: Oh, so do you have someone special in mind?
Timmy: Yes ... Grandma.
Father: What? You want to marry my mother? That won't work.
Timmy: Why not? You married my mother.

A boy asks his father, "Dad, are bugs good to eat?" "That's disgusting. Don't talk about things like that over dinner," the dad replies. After dinner the father asks, "Son, why did you ask about eating bugs?" "Well, there was a bug in your soup, but now it's gone."

Q: What nails do carpenters hate to hit?

A: Fingernails.

I'M HAVING A
COMBINATION OF PROBLEMS
TODAY.

Walking through the hallways at the middle school where John worked, he saw a new substitute teacher standing outside his classroom with his forehead against a locker. John heard him mutter, "How did you get yourself into this?" Knowing that he was assigned to a difficult class, John tried to offer moral support. "Are you okay?" he asked. "Can I help?" The substitute lifted his head and replied, "I'll be fine as soon as I get this kid out of his locker."

WHAT DID THE
PIANO TUNER
SAY AFTER TUNING THE PIANO?

The doorbell rang, and the lady of the house discovered a workman, complete with tool chest, on the front door. "Lady," he announced, "I'm the piano tuner." The lady exclaimed, "Why, I didn't send for a piano tuner!" The man replied, "I know, but your neighbors did."
